Detailed description: This is a screenshot of the Washington Post's sign-in page. At the top is the 'The Washington Post' logo. Below it is the heading 'Sign in or create account'. There is a text input field for 'Email address' with the placeholder text 'Your email here'. Below the input field, it says 'Single sign-on enabled'. There is a blue button that says 'Continue with single sign-on'. Below this is a horizontal line with the word 'or' in the center. Underneath is a note: 'To connect using one of these methods, the email must match the one on your Washington Post account.' There are five rounded rectangular buttons for social login: 'Continue with Amazon', 'Continue with Facebook', 'Continue with Google', 'Continue with Apple', and 'Continue with SSO'. The 'Continue with SSO' button is highlighted with a red rectangular border. At the bottom of the page, there are links for 'Privacy Policy', 'Secure & Encrypted' (with a lock icon), 'Need Help?', and 'EU Advertising Consent'.
