The Farmer's Mutual Insurance Company.

We have been informed that all the policies in in this old and well managed Company expire at the "Annual Meeting," on Monday next, at 12 M. This certainly seems an unfortunate arrangement. The members are very apt to wait until the last day before renewing their policies; and they are so numerous that the officers will have great difficulty in waiting upon all in one day. We, therefore, advise all who do not wish to lose much time in waiting their turn, to get their policies renewed to-day or to-morrow.

The Credit Mobilier Investigation.

In the proceedings of the Committee of investigation, of yesterday, the following letter is published as having been offered by Mr. McComb:

30 Nassau street, New York, December 28th, 1872.—H. S. McComb, Esq., trustee, Wilmington, Del.—Dear Sir: Yours of the 27th instant received, and contents noted. In relation to the Credit Mobilier stock transaction to which you refer, I find by reference to memoranda made December 26th, 1867, that I received James Brooks' check for seven thousand dollars, ($7,000,) and a draft for three thousand, ($3,000,) due January 22d, 1868, and that I transferred, by Mr. Brook's direction, to his son-in-law, Charles H. Neilson, one hundred shares stock Credit Mobilier of America, and two hundred shares (200 shares) stock of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and five (5) first mortgage bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad Company—making, in addition to the 100 Credit Mobilier stock, $25,000 in Union Pacific Railroad securities, for the ten thousand dollars paid. I also find by mem. that the draft referred to above was paid by Mr. Brooks, January 20th, 1868; thus confirming my recollection as to the fact that the transaction was with Mr. James Brooks.

Yours, truly, H. C. CRANE.

Congress Yesterday.

In the U. S. Senate, Mr. Ramsey reported the House bill abolishing the franking privilege, with an amendment making it take effect on the 1st of January, 1873. Mr. Vickers objecting to its consideration, it was placed on the calendar. Bills were passed authorizing deputy customs collectors to act as disbursing agents in certain cases.—The Indian Appropriation bill was considered, pending which the Senate adjourned.

In the House, Mr. Lynch, from the Commerce Committee, reported a bill making the twelfth section of the Shipping Commissioner's act was passed. Mr. Taffee reported a bill for the admission of Colorado as a State. Mr. Hooper, of Utah, moved an amendment providing for the admission of Utah as the State of Deseret.

CO-OPERATIVE CAR BUILDING.—The Oxford Pa., Press, copies the article from a recent number of the GAZETTE in reference to the proposed organization of a Co-operative Car Building Association in this city, and gives the following advantages possessed by that town as a site for the location of the works:

"The advantages that Oxford would give to such a company are manifold. The offer of sufficient land for the shops and of other substantial aid is made in good faith to any reliable party; lumber iron and coal can be obtained as conveniently and cheaper here on the completion of the Oxford & Peach Bottom and Columbia & Port Deposit Railroads (which will be finished by the time the works could be started) as elsewhere in the county; while the cost of living, in consequence of the low price of products of all kinds, is much less than any other locality which can boast of such railroad facilities and town like advantages. Our schools, churches library, banks, hotels and other institutions and associations are equal to those found anywhere, and the absence of lawless, boisterous or turbulent characters is one of the present boasts of our civilization. Add to these advantages the fact that our Borough is a remarkably healthy one on account of its high location and the chalybeate character of its water—there having been only eight deaths during the year just closed, in a population of 1500—with those other essentials to success and comfort, the thrifty industry and the highly intelligent, hospitable, friendly and moral character of our inhabitants, go to make up a most desirable place in which to locate.

Our town has room to grow—it is neither hemmed in by hills or water. If there are not now sufficient buildings to accommodate many new families, there are plenty of unimproved building lots on the already opened streets, which will be sold at low prices, or acres of desirable building sites can be obtained at the price of good farm land. And if the proposed company, being composed of working men, cannot afford to build dwellings we have capitalists among us who will build neat, comfortable and convenient houses that will rent at eight to ten dollars per month."

We, of course are of the opinion that our own city possesses advantages far superior to any other location thus far mentioned as a profitable site for these proposed car works. But if the members of the Association entertain different views, the above suggestions may prove of interest to them.

A Yankee King!

The new chief of the Sandwich Islands, who fills the place of the deceased King, under the title of Regent, is a Yankee. His name is Elisha H. Allen. He has long been the Chief Justice of the islands. He was born in Massachusetts, migrated to Maine, and became a leading lawyer in Bangor. He was an active Whig in the days of Jackson, Van Buren and Harrison, and at one time represented his district in Congress. He was finally defeated by Hannibal Hamlin, who has managed to keep himself warm in his seat ever since.

After this Allen went to the Sandwich Islands as Consul. He was soon displaced by political changes at home, but having acquired a love for the delicious atmosphere and pleasing surroundings of his new home, he concluded to make it his permanent abode. Possessing a refined and sensuous nature, with affable manners and being a man of ability as well as integrity, he became from the first a leading and honored citizen. His holding the post of Chief Justice for many years testifies to the honorable estimation in which he is held. His frank and cheerful countenance, and popular and courtly address, point him out as just the man for a Citizen King.—N. Y. Sun.

A Hartford man thinks he has invested a new process of plating iron or any composition metal either with gold, silver or nickel, the plating being so driven into the surface that it becomes a parcel of the metal itself. Experiments have been made on boiler iron at Colt's with perfect success, and the government is going to test the merits of the invention, which, if of practical use, will be of immense value.

STATE ITEMS.

The citizens of Leipsic have made an effort to organize a fruit canning company, but have not much encouragement, so far.

The school children of Mr. Pennewill's school, in Smyrna gave himself and wife a pair of handsome napkin rings as a Christmas present.

Rev. Mr. Phœbus, of Smyrna will commence next Sunday evening, the first of a series of sermons on the "creation." Much of science and metaphysics will be contained in the discourses.

A number of the citizens of Middletown have formed themselves into a co-operative union, for opening a general provision and grocery store, and have appointed David McKee their agent to conduct the business.

Isaac J. Windle, a young gentleman formerly of Smyrna, was persented with a handsome Ebony Gold-headed cane on Sunday 29th Dec., by Scott M. E. Sunday School, Phila., of which he has been Secretary for the past two years.

The Wilmington Every Evening says that "Smyrna is afflicted with fashionable weddings." How many has it been "afflicted" with. This item is a sample of how erroneously and loosely the State brevities of that journal are thrown together.—Smyrna Times.

Last week, N. T. Jerman, Esq., Smyrna was presented with a handsome watch case by Mr. J. W. F. Cooper, on the part of the Mission School, in token of the appreciation of the children of his services in their behalf. The case was beautiful, and was the handwork of Mrs. Cooper.

PENINSULAR NEWS.

The Vienna Clipper is now issued in quarto form.

A Lyceum was organized in Denton, last week.

Small pox still continues to exist in Dorchester county.

The protracted meeting at the Denton M. E. Church is not meeting with success.

A number of bridges in Caroline county were damaged by the rain of last Sunday.

And now Cambridge is looking up and demands a telegraph office within the limits of the town.

Several cases are pending at the next term of Dorchester County Court against parties receiving illegal interest.

A little son of F. G. Wright, of Easton, was thrown from a horse he was riding last week and sprained his ankle badly.

Thos. Frampton, an old inmate of the Caroline Co., Alms House, fell on the ice last week, broke his arm and injured his hip.

The discussion between the Vienna Clipper and Cambridge News still continues with but little politeness or courtesy displayed on either side.

Obituary of Napoleon III.

At forty-five minutes past ten on Thursday, by London time, Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, ex-Emperor of the French, died at his residence, Camden House, Chiselhurst.

Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte was the third son of Hortense Beauharnais, the daughter of the Empress Josephine by her first husband. Hortense had been forced, in 1802, to marry Louis Bonaparte, the third brother of the great Napoleon. This was brought about by the ambition of Josephine and the inflexible will of Napoleon, although both parties were disinclined to the arrangement, having formed other attachments, Louis to Emilie Beauharnais, the niece of Josephine, and Hortense to General Duroc. Louis Bonaparte, was an amiable man, with high principles and little ambition, and adorer of the works of Rousseau and a detester of his wife. Disinclined as he was to a marriage with Hortense Beauharnais, he was equally disinclined to ascend the throne of Holland, when requested to do so by his brother; but yielded, after a vain resistance, in 1806, only to abdicate when he found it impossible to reconcile his brother's continental system with the interests of his own subjects.

The eldest son of Louis and Hortense, Napoleon Charles by name, died at La Haye, in May, 1807; the second, Napoleon Louis, died suddenly at Forli, in Italy, in 1831, Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte—sometime known as Napoleon III—was persumably the third son of this couple, but grave doubts of his claim to this distinction have been frequently expressed.

THE NEWS RECEIVED IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 9—Evening.—The news of Napoleon's death was received at a late hour this afternoon. It is not yet possible to estimate the extent of the effect here. The Imperialists, of course, are profoundly affected, and appear to regard the event as a final blow to their hopes. The only evening journal which has any editorial on the subject, is the Messager de Patis. It closes a brief article as follows: "The disasters which have made shipwreck of the Empire will not cause to be forgotten the great services Napoleon has rendered to the nation in re-establishing order and developing the prosperity of France." None of the other evening papers had time to do more than to print the announcement without comment.

THE GRIEF OF THE EX-EMPRESS AND THE PRINCE IMPERIAL.

LONDON, Jan. 9—[Special to the New York World]—The ex-Empress Eugenie weeps continually and refuses consolation. The Prince Imperial, who arrived after his father died, is prostrated with grief. The ex-Emperor's death was caused by embolism. It was so sudden that the last sacraments were not administered, the priest arriving after all was over. The body will be buried at Chiselhurst, until it can be removed to France. Universal sorrow prevails in London.

A INSANE MAN JUMPS INTO THE DELAWARE WITH A CHILD.—About half past seven o'clock Wednesday evening James Bennett, 25 years old, residing at St. John and Buttonwood streets, visited the house of Timothy Brennan, his brother-in-law, No. 132 North Front street, and seized a child of Mr. Brennan, about 4 years old, and running with it in his arms to Race street wharf, jumped into the river. He was seen by Officer McGee of the Fourth Police District, who procured a hook and by this means drew him from the river.

The child was thrown by Bennett on a cake of ice, and was taken from its perilous position by the officer. Bennett was then removed to the Fourth district station house, where he remained during the night, and the child was taken to its home. Bennett, until recently, had been confined in an insane asylum, and was released from the institution about two weeks ago. He appeared quite demented, and was not able to give any intelligent answer when questioned.—Phila. Herald.

INVESTMENT

SECURITIES.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company, through its Financial Agents, is now selling, at par and accrued interest, its First Mortgage 7-30 Gold Bonds, for the purpose of completing the construction and equipment of its line of Road. After thorough investigation, we recommend these securities as a profitable and safe investment. The Bonds have the following

LEADING FEATURES:

1. The issue is limited to $50,000 r mile of road.
2. The Principal and Interest are payable in Gold—the principal in thirty years, and the interest (at the Banking House of Jay Cooke & Co., New York,) semi-annually, first of January and July.
3. The rate of Interest is 7 3-10 per cent. per annum—equal, at the present gold premium, to abou 8¼ per cent. in legal tender currency.
4. The Bonds are issued of the following denominations: Coupon, $100, $500 and $1000; Registered, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.
5. The semi-annual interest on the Registered Bonds is paid by gold checks, sent regularly by mail o the post-office address of the holder. Permanent investors are advised to purchase the Registered Bonds, both as a protection against loss, theft and fire, and for the greater convenience in collecting the interest. The Registered Bonds can be at any time exchanged for Coupon, and the Coupon for Registered, without expense to the owner.
