[Upbeat music]

2

00:00:04,966 --> 00:00:07,833

Since the library has many databases

3

00:00:07,833 --> 00:00:10,300

you'll need to decide which are best to 4

00:00:10,300 --> 00:00:13,966

use for your topic. Start on the library

5

00:00:13,966 --> 00:00:15,966

homepage and click the "Research Guide"

6

00:00:15,966 --> 00:00:19,466

drop down menu.

7

00:00:19,466 --> 00:00:22,600

For our example of "social media's impact

8

00:00:22,600 --> 00:00:25,500

on political participation" we could try:

9

00:00:25,500 --> 00:00:30,233

"communication". These links will take you 10

00:00:30,233 --> 00:00:32,700

to research guides created by UD

11

00:00:32,700 --> 00:00:36,233

librarians. Look for the "databases" tab to 12

00:00:36,233 --> 00:00:38,300

find a full list of resources for 13

00:00:38,300 --> 00:00:40,800

research in this discipline, and choose

14

00:00:40,800 --> 00:00:43,866

one to start your search. Once you've 15

00:00:43,866 --> 00:00:46,466

gotten results in a database you'll need

16

00:00:46,466 --> 00:00:49,533

to access the "Full text". Sometimes you'll 17

00:00:49,533 --> 00:00:51,800

see a full-text link that you can use to 18

00:00:51,800 --> 00:00:54,700

download the article. Other times you'll 19

00:00:54,700 --> 00:00:58,133

need to use the "Get It" button. From here 20

00:00:58,133 --> 00:01:02,933

locate the PDF "Full Text" icon - which will 21

00:01:02,933 --> 00:01:06,833

download the entire article. If you see 22

00:01:06,833 --> 00:01:09,066

this screen when you use "Get It", it means

23

00:01:09,066 --> 00:01:10,866

that we don't have an electronic copy

24

00:01:10,866 --> 00:01:13,933

available. Click "Search by Title" to see 25

00:01:13,933 --> 00:01:16,300

if we have it in print, or use the 26

00:01:16,300 --> 00:01:18,500

"Interlibrary Loan" link to request an 27

00:01:18,500 --> 00:01:21,266

electronic copy. You'll get a PDF in 28

00:01:21,266 --> 00:01:28,666

about two business days. [Music]
