2010 Annual Dinner with Rick Steves on Travel as a Political Act

6:00 p.m. Hospitality hour

7:00 p.m. Dinner and program

Arsht Hall

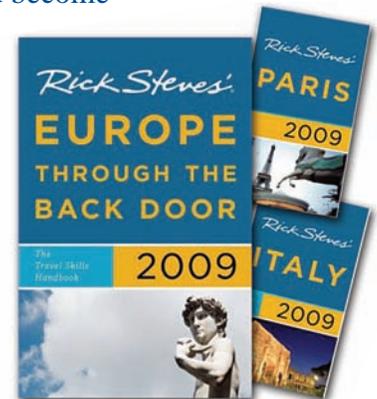

University of Delaware, Wilmington

The featured speaker will be Rick Steves, an advocate of “smart independent travel.” As best-selling author of over thirty European travel books and host, writer and producer of the popular public television series, “Rick Steves’ Europe,” he encourages Americans to delve deep into Europe and become “temporary locals.” He helps travelers connect much more intimately and authentically with Europe – and Europeans – for a fraction of what mainstream tourists pay.

His books include Rick Steves’ Europe Through the Back Door 2009, Rick Steves’ Paris 2009, and Rick Steves’ Italy 2009.

“In many respects, this is the root of Steves’s character: a fastidious mind coupled with an explorer’s sense of whimsy.”

—Sara Corbett of The New York Times Magazine

Interested persons may request an invitation by sending an email message that includes full name and mailing address to UDLA@udel.edu or by calling Library Administration at 302-831-2231. The event will be open to the public with a paid dinner reservation. Dinner prices are $99 per person for members of the University of Delaware Library Associates and $135 per person for guests (non-members) which includes a first-year membership in the Library Associates.
