About Dr. Margaret Andersen

Dr. Margaret Andersen, Edward F. and Elizabeth Goodman Rosenberg Professor of Sociology and Interim Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs and Diversity at the University of Delaware, will give the 2014 Faculty Lecture sponsored by the University of Delaware Library Associates entitled “A Quarter Century of Thinking about Women: Personal and Intellectual Reflections.”

Dr. Andersen received an M.A. and a Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Massachusetts and a B.A. in Sociology from Georgia State University in Atlanta. Her interests as a Professor of Sociology and Women's Studies are the sociology of race and gender. Dr. Andersen teaches classes on introductory sociology; social inequality; and the sociology of race and ethnicity.

She is the author of several books, including Living Art: The Life of Paul R. Jones, African American Art Collector (with Neil F. Thomas); Thinking About Women: Sociological Perspectives on Sex and Gender; Race, Class, and Gender (with Patricia Hill Collins); Sociology: Understanding a Diverse Society (with Howard F. Taylor); Sociology: The Essentials (with Howard F. Taylor); Understanding Society: Readings in Sociology (with Kim A. Logio); and Social Problems (with Frank R. Scarpitti and Laura L. O'Toole). Her most recent book, On Land and On Sea: Women in the Rosenfeld Collection, was published by Mystic Seaport Museum and is a photographic essay of women across the course of the 20th century, based on images in the Rosenfeld Collection of Mystic Seaport. On Land and On Sea by Dr. Andersen will be available for purchase for $27 from the University of Delaware Bookstore both before and after her presentation.
