WELCOME TO THE LIBRARY

Greetings,

Welcome to the University of Delaware Library! This Library publication is intended to acquaint the University Community with Library collections, services, electronic databases and electronic journals, the Institutional Repository, and other resources. The University of Delaware Library is comprised of the Morris Library, four branch libraries, and the Library Annex.

This is an exciting and challenging time for libraries. Traditional information resources of books, journals, microforms, and other materials are greatly enhanced by electronic access and the use of the Internet as a spectacular tool for scholarly research. Electronic library resources such as DELCAT, licensed databases, full-text electronic journals, image collections, Library digital collections, Institutional Repository, the Library web, and the provision of gateway capability to the vast and rich world of information on the Internet, provide more information to the University Community than ever before. In addition to these electronic library resources, the Library provides a wide variety of in-person and online services. An exciting new Student Multimedia Design Center on the Lower Level of the Morris Library is open, with eighty workstations, six studios and two multimedia classrooms.

Library staff look forward to working with you. Please feel comfortable in asking for staff assistance at the Reference Desk, at the Information Desk, and at any service desk in the Morris Library or in the branch libraries. Also use the online reference service AskRef for e-mail reference or AskRef*Live!* for live online reference service. For Library hours, please call 302-831-BOOK.

May your library experience be abundant with enrichment and scholarly achievement!

Susan Brynteson
The May Morris Director of Libraries

New Student Multimedia Design Center has more than 70 workstations, 4 studios, 2 classrooms and a new large service desk.
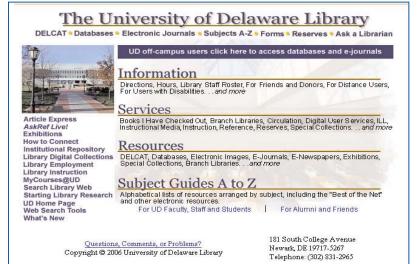

New Student Multimedia Design Center

The exciting new Student Multimedia Design Center is located on the lower level of the Morris Library and is now open. This renovated area includes more than seventy workstations with general software applications as well as multiple-level multimedia software, four digital video studios, a sound studio, a transfer studio, and two classrooms. At a new large service desk, Library staff provide assistance to students with multimedia, including video and audio creation and editing, reservation of the studios for developing communication skills and loan of digital video equipment. The area encompassing the Student Multimedia Design Center was designed to be a flexible space with tables, chairs, and privacy walls that can be reconfigured to create a collaborative work environment.

For information about the Center, including dates of upcoming orientations, students may come to the lower level of Morris Library to the Student Multimedia Design Center service desk, call 302-831-8832, or may consult the Student Multimedia Design Center website: [www.udel.edu/smdc] Services at the service desk also include assistance with Microforms, CD-ROMs, Maps, library photocopiers and copy cards, and the GIS/Digital Mapping Station.

For information about using multimedia in courses, faculty may contact the PRESENT (Practical Resources for Educators Seeking Effective New Technologies) in Smith Hall, call 302-831-0640 or check the Web: [www.udel.edu/present].

The Student Multimedia Design Center is a collaborative service of the University of Delaware Library and IT/User Services.

Electronic Resources

DELCAT: The Library Online Catalog

DELCAT is the online catalog of the University of Delaware Library. It includes information about more than 2,700,000 volumes; 440,000 government publications; 16,000 videos and films; 3,400,000 items in microtext; and over 12,000 current serials including electronic journals in the Library collections.

DELCAT also provides direct links to electronic journals and other online resources and allows users to search specific libraries or collections. Firefox version 1.5, Netscape 6.0, or later releases of these web browsers work most effectively with DELCAT.

delcat.udel.edu

Questions regarding DELCAT may be sent via e-mail to the Library at [askref@poole.lib.udel.edu] or go to Ask a Librarian at [www2.lib.udel.edu/ref/askalib].

Image Databases: ARTstor and AccuNet/AP

The Library subscribes to image digital databases, including ARTstor and AccuNet/AP Multimedia Archive.
University of Delaware Library users can incorporate photos or graphics into their course, project, or web site using resources provided by the Library.

ARTstor:
500,000 Digital Images

The ARTstor Digital Library is comprised of digital images of art objects including architecture, painting, photography, sculpture, prints, decorative arts and design, archaeological and anthropological objects, and other materials that are related to visual and material culture. Images are from all time periods -- pre-history to 21st century, all cultures, and all geographic areas.

The ARTstor image collection contains approximately 500,000 digital images which support teaching and research primarily across the humanities, but also in areas such as civil engineering and history of science and technology. The size and breadth of this collection makes it a valuable instructional resource for all disciplines. ARTstor is accessible at [www.artstor.org].

AccuNet/AP Multimedia Archive:
One Million Associated Press Digital Photos

The AccuNet/AP Multimedia Archive database provides access to more than 1,000,000 photos and graphics from the AP wire service from the 1860s until today on all subjects. It is updated daily with 800 photos per day. AccuNet/AP Multimedia Archive is accessible at [accuweather.ap.org/cgi-bin/aplaunch.pl].

Digital images from these two resources can be downloaded and used for classroom presentations, term papers, dissertations, syllabi and theses, research projects, and presentations at conferences.

Many other free and fee-based digital image repositories can be found from the Library's Digital Image Collections web page at [www2.lib.udel.edu/eresources/digitalimages].

Where to Find Articles Online

Databases provided by the Library allow searching of thousands of journals at once to find articles. Full-text databases are those with entire articles online. Some full-text databases, such as JSTOR, go back 100 years or more. A list of full-text databases can be found at [www2.lib.udel.edu/eresources/fulltext].

- Go to the Library home page and click on Databases to find more than 240 databases, or go directly to [www.lib.udel.edu/db] for the complete list of databases.
- Full-text databases and electronic journals provide articles from more than 40,000 journals and newspapers.

Electronic Journals & Electronic Newspapers

Electronic journals and electronic newspapers provided by the Library allow searching or reading articles online.

- To find electronic journals, go to the Library home page and click on Electronic Journals, or go directly to [www.lib.udel.edu/db/ejrnls.html].
- To find electronic newspapers, go to the Library home page and click on Resources, then Electronic Newspapers, or go directly to [www2.lib.udel.edu/subj/newspapers/db.htm].

How to Insert Article URL Links:

Faculty can place URL links to articles from databases and electronic journals on WebCT or course syllabi to create online reading lists. More information about creating links to articles is at [www2.lib.udel.edu/usered/purls/index.htm].

scholar.google.com

Google™ Scholar is a beta test system by Google™ that enables users to search for scholarly literature, including peer-reviewed papers, theses, books, preprints, abstracts, and technical reports covering a number of broad areas of scholarly inquiry.

Currently the University of Delaware Library, through the Databases and Electronic Journals web pages, provides access to many more online full-text articles than are included in Google™ Scholar.

Google™ Scholar is being recognized by libraries and researchers across the country as an additional means of facilitating the research process. It is important to recognize that UD students, faculty, and staff are able to immediately view many entire articles found in Google™ Scholar because the UD Library subscribes to, pays for, and licenses access to thousands of electronic journals that are included in Google™ Scholar. Users who are not accessing the Internet through the UD network may see only a request to purchase that article and not the entire article.

Article Express, an exciting service designed and developed by the University of Delaware Library, offers one-stop access to scholarly information via the Library web. Search thousands of journals from major academic publishers via the Web of Science and other leading databases that cover numerous disciplines.

Databases that include the Article Express service have direct links to the full text of journal articles available online, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. A link to Article Express is available on the Library web or at [www2.lib.udel.edu/database/docs/ae.html].
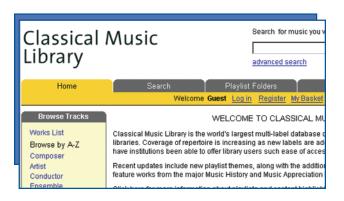

Electronic Resources

Music Databases: Classical Music Library and Naxos

The University of Delaware Library subscribes to two databases of music: Classical Music Library and Naxos Music Library.
Access to both databases is enabled by the Henry Newton Lee Jr. Family Library Music Fund. Access to the databases is available to students, faculty, and staff from classroom, office, and residential halls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Classical Music Library, produced by Alexander Street Press, is a comprehensive, fully searchable database of distinguished classical recordings. It includes tens of thousands of licensed recordings that users can listen to on the Internet.

It contains music from medieval to contemporary, from choral works to symphonies, operas and the avant-garde and includes multiple versions of works to enable comparative listening by students, a major bonus for academics. Users can listen and learn at any time from any computer, while simultaneously searching and browsing the reference database.

Naxos, the world's leading producer of classical music, produces more new recordings than any other label or corporate entity. Naxos Music Library provides the complete Naxos, Marco Polo, and Da Capo catalogs as well as jazz and world music, educational products, and a growing range of historical recordings featuring the biggest performers in the history of classical music. Naxos is in the process of adding catalogs of other independent labels including Celestial Harmonies, Analekta, BIS, ARC, First Edition, and CBC to the Library. Naxos expects to continue to include leading independent labels from around the world. Users browse, search, click, and then listen to the music over the Internet through headphones.

Classical Music Library can be accessed at [www2.lib.udel.edu/database/cml.html].
Naxos Music Library can be accessed at [www2.lib.udel.edu/database/nml.html]. These databases are supported by a gift from the Henry Newton Lee Jr. Family Library Music Fund.

Eighteenth Century Collections Online (ECCO)

ECCO includes the digital images of every page of 150,000 books published during the 18th century, mainly in the United Kingdom but also in the Americas. With full-text searching of approximately 26 million pages, Eighteenth Century Collections Online allows researchers new methods of access to critical information in the fields of history, geography, literature, philosophy, religion, law, medicine, fine arts, science, social science, and more.

ECCO includes a variety of materials -- from books and directories, Bibles, sheet music and sermons to advertisements -- and works by many well-known and lesser-known authors, all providing a diverse collection of materials for the researcher of the eighteenth century. ECCO was acquired with the support of the Unidel Foundation.

Web of Science

Web of Science is one of the most important databases accessible via the University of Delaware Library. It provides references, abstracts, and links to full text for more than 8,700 international journals in the sciences, social sciences, and the arts and humanities. It is a citation database that includes the Science Citation Index Expanded (1945-present), Social Sciences Citation Index (1956-present), and Arts & Humanities Citation Index (1975-present).

Web of Science links references to both the online full text of articles in journals and to related articles, thus allowing a broad search across disciplines. The power of Web of Science as a research tool is due to its comprehensive subject coverage and its ability to link related articles through their bibliographic citations. The citation data allows a library user to begin with a known, relevant journal article and find other, more recent articles that cite it.

Web of Science is the premier database in the Library's Article Express service, which provides access online to the full text of journal articles online from a variety of publishers.

Institutional Repository

The University of Delaware is one of the first universities in the nation to create an institutional repository for research and scholarship. The Institutional Repository is available at [dspace.udel.edu].

"The Institutional Repository provides one-stop shopping for access to UD research (storing, indexing, preserving, and redistributing information)," said Susan Brynteson, the May Morris Director of Libraries.

The Institutional Repository is a library system that uses DSpace open-source software to make University of Delaware original research available in digital form, including technical reports, working papers, conference papers, images and more, through one interface. The repository is limited to materials for which the copyright is owned by the author or the University.

Information about placing research in the Institutional Repository is available by calling the administration office of the Library at 302-831-2231 or send an e-mail to Sandra Millard at [skm@udel.edu], Gregg Silvis at [gregg@udel.edu], William Simpson at [wsimpson@udel.edu], or Susan Brynteson at [susanb@udel.edu].

Visit the University of Delaware Library Institutional Repository web site: dspace.udel.edu

SciFinder Scholar

SciFinder Scholar is a desktop research tool that provides easy access to the information in the Chemical Abstracts Service databases, searching by author, topic, or chemical structure. SciFinder Scholar provides access to information about more than 27 million substances and links to the full text of electronic scientific journals on the web and in the University of Delaware Library.

SciFinder Scholar is unique in that it provides a full reaction query tool that enables users to build and explore complete reaction queries, including the ability to specify reaction sites and map atoms in the reactant to the product. Built-in intelligence permits drawing structures for many organic substances.

These databases, and many more, can be accessed at [www.lib.udel.edu/db].

Instructional Resources

Start Research Here: Online "Subjects A-Z" Guides

Bookmark subject guides or use them in course syllabi

Library staff have created more than 105 comprehensive subject guides for nearly all disciplines in which the University offers degrees. The online subject guides are updated regularly and provide links to the University of Delaware Library databases, electronic journals, DELCAT, and Internet resources considered by a subject specialist to be the best on a subject — an extensive list of the best scholarly web sites on that topic and pertinent University web pages. From the Library home page, users may select Subjects A-Z or go directly to [www2.lib.udel.edu/subj].

Course Reserves

The University of Delaware Library provides both traditional course reserve and electronic course reserve services to support class instruction. In traditional course reserve, materials submitted by faculty are made available in the Reserve Room of the Morris Library or in the branch libraries. Guidelines are under Course Reserves (click on Services on the Library web).

Electronic Course Reserves provides digital images of course material submitted by faculty, scanned by the Library, and made available to registered students via DELCAT. In DELCAT, the Search Course Reserves section provides course reading lists.

Faculty interested in providing electronic access to course reserve readings for students under established guidelines can view the Electronic Reserves Information for Faculty at [www.lib.udel.edu/ud/reserve/erinfo.html]

Wireless and Wired Access for Laptop Computers

Wireless Zone

Wireless access is available in the Morris Library covering all floors and in the branch libraries. The Library also provides more than 200 wired locations for laptop connections to the campus network, including branch libraries locations.

Laptop computers need to use roaming IP to connect to the Internet in the Morris Library. Instructions on how to set up roaming IP for laptops can be found at www2.lib.udel.edu/eresources/connect.html].

Presentations for University Classes

Librarians regularly meet with undergraduate and graduate classes at the request of faculty to describe and discuss research techniques, demonstrate relevant databases, and to explain the resources available about a particular topic or discipline. Orientation sessions for special groups of users and Morris Library tours may be scheduled upon request. Questions can be directed to the Reference Desk or by calling 302-831-2432.

For more information, users may visit the web page for Library Instruction at [www2.lib.udel.edu/usered/].

Special Collections: Rare Books, Manuscripts, and Exhibitions

Illustration from American Ornithology, or, the Natural History of the Birds of the United States, by Alexander Wilson. Philadelphia, Bradford and Inskeep, 1808-1814. Special Collections, University of Delaware Library

The Special Collections Department is located on the Second Floor of the Morris Library. Holdings include books, manuscripts, maps, prints, photographs, broadsides, periodicals, pamphlets, ephemera, and realia from the 15th to the 20th century.

The collections complement the Library general collections with strengths in the arts; English, Irish, and American literature; history and Delawareana; horticulture; history of science and technology; and the book arts.

These materials are available for research use by all University of Delaware faculty, staff, students, and visiting scholars. Materials do not circulate and photocopying of bound items is restricted. A laptop computer is available for use in Special Collections.
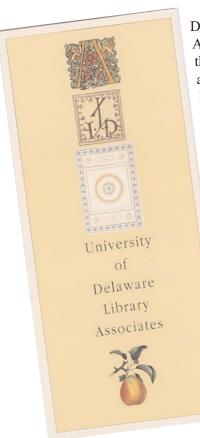

Special Collections holdings are distinguished by their subject matter, age, rarity, association with the author or earlier owners, special illustrations or binding, textual or historical significance, fragile format, or other criteria. Among the collections are manuscripts and significant editions of works by selected 20th century American authors, for example, Alice Dunbar-Nelson, Tennessee Williams, and Paul Bowles.

Exhibitions of materials from Special Collections are featured in the Special Collections Exhibition Gallery with two major exhibitions each year, and are occasionally accompanied by a published guide or catalog. The exhibitions also contribute to scholarship in a field, interpret aspects of the collections, and commemorate historic and cultural events.

Special Collections also coordinates exhibitions on the First Floor of the Morris Library, which highlight areas of the Library general collections.

Online versions of exhibitions, as well as other online resources, including finding aids for many manuscript and archival collections, are available via the Special Collections web at [www.lib.udel.edu/ud/spec].

An Invitation to Join the University of Delaware Library Associates

Librarian Subject Area Responsibilities

Librarians are responsible for collection development and library instruction in subject areas that support the curriculum and research needs of the University of Delaware. All suggestions for books, journals, media, electronic media, microforms, and journal backfiles should be forwarded to the librarian responsible for the subject area. All requests from faculty for discipline specific instruction should be referred to subject librarians. The following is a list of librarians who are subject specialists that make recommendations for the collection development decision-making process for both traditional and electronic library resources. Library Commons, Bleecker Street Café, and 24-hour Study

The newly renovated Library Commons and Bleecker Street Café, located just inside the main entrance of the Morris Library, have a new look and new menu! Library users will see new tables and chairs, the new Bleecker Street Café, vending machines, and both wired and wireless Internet access. The Library Commons is also accessible from the terrace on the north side of the Library.

During the latter periods of the fall and spring semester through final exams, the Morris Library Commons is open 24 hours a day for around-the-clock study. During other periods, the Commons is available whenever the Morris Library is open. For Library hours, users may call 302-831-BOOK or go to [www2.lib.udel.edu/hours].

To preserve the Library collections, equipment, and facilities, Library users are asked not to bring food beyond the double-glass doors of the Morris Library. Closed or resealable drink containers with lids are permitted. With the financial assistance of Dining Services, patrolling Public Safety officers and monitors help the Library staff maintain an atmosphere conducive to studying and reading and ensure that policies about food and drink are implemented.

Library users are asked to take a sensible approach in caring for the Library.
