

The University of Delaware Library
Introduces and Welcomes

Natalia Lopez

Natalia Lopez was appointed digital scholarship librarian, July 5, 2017. Lopez will collaborate with and support faculty, students and staff involved in digital scholarship, and will coordinate library activities in support of the life cycle of digital projects. She will participate in the development of digital projects, conduct individual training and group instruction, and lead workshops on digital scholarship research methods, tools, platforms and best practices.

Lopez brings considerable knowledge of digital software and platforms to the position. While completing her master of science in library science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, she served as a research and instruction intern. There, she co-facilitated a data visualization series on digital research tools, created instructional videos, contributed web content, assisted with English 101 library instruction, and provided virtual and in-person reference.
